

Close Protection (CP) Course

Careers in the Private Security Industry Anubis - Creating Opportunities

When embarking on a career change, challenging opportunities arise and should be met by ensuring the help, guidance and training you receive is the most appropriate available to your given circumstances.

At Anubis we understand the dilemmas of this transition with the insight of first-hand experience. Everyone in our organisation has undertaken similar career changes in the past. This insight has prepared staff at Anubis to understand and meet that challenge. All our training staff have proven operational and training experience at the highest level.

Our teaching staff also benefit from a professional civilian training qualification and have practical experience as Close Protection Operatives with the SAS, UK Royalty Protection and the commercial sector. The combination of theory based subject knowledge, best practice gained in a wide variety of operational environments and professional teaching skills has helped shape a Close Protection Course with both breadth and depth.

Anubis is an approved training provider for Buckinghamshire New University to deliver Security Industry Authority (SIA) Close Protection Licence Qualifications. We are also accredited by Skills for Security which is the standards setting body for the UK Security Business Sector. This multiple accreditation status is recognised as the highest possible for a CP training provider.

On successful completion of our course the training you will have received will enable you to apply directly for your SIA licence and begin to realise the opportunities that a new challenge creates.

Why choose the Anubis Close Protection Course?

Our growing success is fuelled by the Private Security Industry recognising value in the Anubis brand. As more of our successful graduates work in the CP sector the high quality of our course is reflected in the work that they undertake. We maintain strong working relationships with many of the main security providers in the industry, and in return they actively seek out Anubis students which ensures that our course is increasingly in demand.

Our CP Course is run by qualified professionals for professionals to qualify. With this at the forefront of our business ethos we pay attention not just to the high quality standard of teaching but also to the accommodation and training facilities we provide. As a residential student you will have full use of our state of the art training facilities and on-site bespoke classrooms in the beautiful Herefordshire countryside. The quality of the residential package is hardly reflected in the extra cost and it will be as memorable as the training course itself.

The full three-week CP course includes extensive guided learning and is preceded by an optional enhanced four-day HSE First Aid at Work (FAAW) course. This is specifically planned before the course for those students who are not already FAAW qualified as it is a requirement for SIA CP licensing.

Geoffrey Padgham, Anubis Training Director has designed the course in consultation with a range of experienced CP trainers to incorporate the mandatory SIA Specification for Core Competency Training & Qualifications for CPOs and additional skills training.

Roles & Responsibilities of the CPO	Surveillance Awareness
Close Protection Foot Techniques	Operational Planning
Route Selection & Planning	Law & Legislation
Interpersonal Skills	Threat & Risk Assessment
Close Protection Vehicle Techniques	Search Awareness
Venue Based Security	Incidents & Dilemmas
Reconnaissance	CV Writing
Interview Techniques	Teamwork
Communication & Conflict Management Skills

When you choose to train with Anubis not only are you undertaking a comprehensive course of instruction, you will also benefit from the skills and experience of instructors who are still actively involved in the CP sector. It will be these skills and experience that you will remember and come to rely on as a lasting memory from an exceptional course.

